The natural beauty of parchment gives a unique touch to your exclusive projects.

Extroverso presents new ideas for wall decoration

Unusual design for Extroverso means not only innovation, but also new interpretation and application of beautiful artistic traditions.

A combination of past and present trends, materials, design and techniques. Parchment is obtained from goatskin, processed to obtain a material that is smooth, resistant and soft.

Art Deco in the 1930s brought this material to be appreciated through the interpretation of great artists and designers. Applied to the wooden surface, parchment gives to any piece of furniture a unique effect, with its grain and the depth of the naturally precious material. The parchment-covered furniture is finally protected with glossy or matt finish, which makes it resistant and waterproof.

The uniqueness of parchment for exclusive projects

The new series of modular elements is finished with natural parchment and plays with different patterns, colors and layers. Ideas that show the versatility and natural beauty of the material, the quality of the finish and the ability of our craftsmen.

The panels can be customized for your project and may become a boiserie, a door, a headboard on your bed, or the finish of your furniture piece. Whatever your creativity and expertise suggest.

The uniqueness of the material is dedicated to the exclusivity of your project.

ESSENCE

Every leather is unique. Combining wall panels covered with parchment, in its natural color, emphasizes the beauty of the material.

Can be customized in color and size, or combined with metal details and other materials.

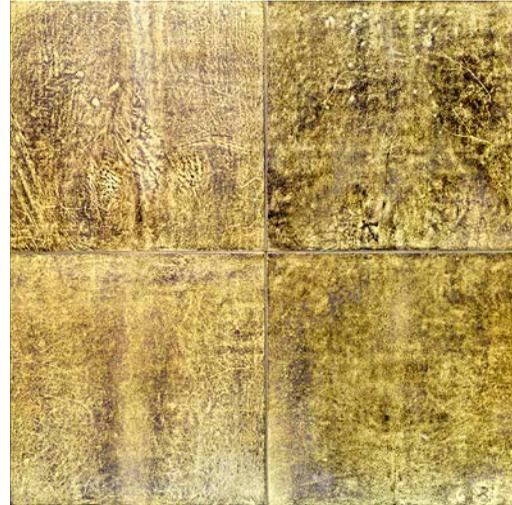

GIZA

Squared layers of wood, finished with natural parchment. Pure lines, creating an elegant and precious element of decoration, for the walls, but also for a door, a sideboard or a frame.

Can be customized in color and size, and layers can be adapted to project specifications.

HORUS

Parchment beauty can be enriched by gold leaf, wisely sanded to create a very special effect. These panels are precious and simple at the same time, letting the gold fill all the veins and the depth of the leather.

Can be customized in color and size, with gold or silver leaf.

KHABA

These panels are covered with parchment and crafted to bring out all the natural signs, pores and scratches of the leather.

The effect is incredible and shows how much beauty there is in "imperfection" and diversity.

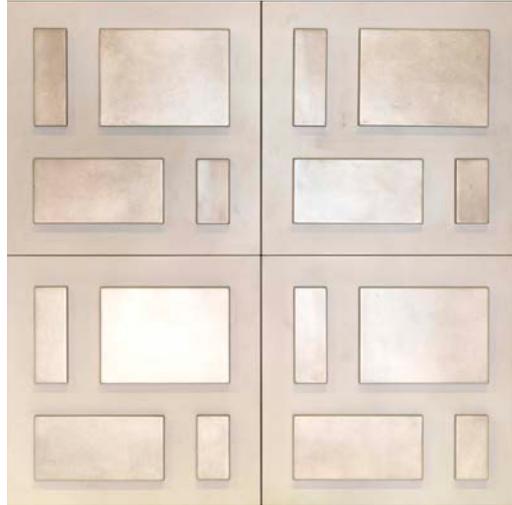

CHEOPE

Inlay

Geometrical cuts of parchment, inlaid to create a piece of art, where every piece of leather brings a different pattern. The parchment tiles can also on separate layers, applied on a lacquered or wooden panel, to play with contrasting materials. Can be customized in color and size.

EXTROVERSO: UNUSUAL DESIGN

Extroverso is all about experience and passion. We create furniture pieces and tailor made projects that combine made in Italy craftsmanship and tradition, creativity, and innovative vision.

Extroverso is an anthropological journey through design, where past and future, globality, and local realities, meet and cohabit. Different sensibilities, projects, languages, and international identities come together to create excellence and beauty.

High-quality craftsmanship is a defining value for made in Italy products and it is particularly so for Brianza, an area where the production of handmade furniture and woodworking has shaped the story of this land. Here, tradition and innovation meet, to produce high-quality furniture made under the highest industry standards.

Specialized in parchment covering and finishing, Extroverso collaborates worldwide with interior designers and architects for unique pieces and exclusive projects.
